Hutcabb's quality software solutions have helped numerous enterprises from small and medium to multi-national companies (MNCs)

Introduction

Hutcabb Consulting delivers software solutions from customized application development to Internet solution to delivering information via the wireless technology. It's commitment to their customers go beyond mere services. It also aims to bring their clients to the forefront of technology.

Why Webvisions?

Hutcabb chose Webvisions as partner for its service level commitments and its clear and transparent price structures which enable resellers or channel partners like HutCabb access to important pricing information, flexibility of hosting plans and a wide range of plans to suit a variety of client requirements. From virtual hosting plans, to virtual private servers where virtual servers are easily managed and administered; channel partners like HutCabb are able to grow their business potential with web hosting partners like Webvisions. And this flexibility in terms of price structure coupled with a fast and responsive sales team has helped HutCabb overcome many of its obstacles.

“Our clients need to plan their budget so they will request for a rough cost estimate for their project with us. As many partners are involved, a lot of time can be spent chasing for quotes and understanding the client's requirements.

With Webvisions, we never have any delays or problems as the information we need is delivered to us in a timely and accurate manner,” said Keith Chia, Managing Director, HutCabb Consulting Pte Ltd.

This clarity of Webvisions' price structure and its consistent responsiveness to HutCabb makes Webvisions the preferred hosting partner. Another factor is Webvision's competitive prices and reliability.

“HutCabb Consulting delivers quality software solutions and thus require partners that provide hosting solutions that can meet our stringent needs. HutCabb has been working with Webvisions for many years and the service level has always been up to expectation,” said Keith Chia.

Webvisions is Hutcabb's Preferred Partner

With many MNC and small to medium sized companies relying on HutCabb for hosting applications, and corporate marketing projects, it is imperative that HutCabb's dedicated server and virtual hosting solutions are secure and problem-free. If challenges arise, HutCabb has to respond quickly. This is where Webvisions' assistance is key. Keith Chia said, “Webvisions is very diligent in ensuring that our solutions are operating in a safe network environment and they have never failed to respond when issues arise. If you asked me to choose again, I will still choose Webvisions.”
